Total number of Patients admitted since the establishment of the Hospital in 1802, 30,620.

As far as the experience of the London Fever Hospital is a test of the prevalence of fever in the metropolis, there has been, during the year 1858, a marked decline. With one exception (the year 1850), the admissions have not been so few for sixteen years, and were upwards of 1,200 less than in 1856, and 350 less than in 1857. This great diminution in the prevalence of Continued Fever accords with the experience of all the great metropolitan hospitals.

The monthly admissions varied from 63, the highest in September, to 23, the lowest in February. The largest number of admissions (230 out of 547) occurred during the four months from August to November inclusive.

The daily average number of patients in the Hospital throughout the year was only 38.

Considerably upwards of one-third (190 out of 547) of the total admissions were not cases of fever, but of various acute diseases, in which the febrile condition was a secondary, and not a primary affection. Subtracting these cases from the total admissions, there remain only 357 cases, which may be regarded as the real number of fever cases. Of these there were of Typhus fever 15 cases; of Typhoid, 180; of Scarlet fever, 118; and of the slight affection which has been designated Febricula, 44.

It is to be observed that the diminution of the total number of Fever cases is almost entirely confined to the true Typhus. The number of cases admitted with Typhus has varied very greatly from year to year. Thus, while in 1851 the admission of Typhus cases only amounted to 68, in 1856 the number rose to 1,062, in 1857 it fell to 274, and during the past year there have been only 15

Typhus cases admitted. Again, of these 15 cases, 6 had not the characteristic eruption. Moreover, of the 15 cases, 10 occurred during the first four months of the year; and since the month of April only one case of Typhus with eruption has been admitted.

Typhoid fever has presented a marked antithesis to Typhus as regards the number of admissions. There has been no diminution. During the ten preceding years the annual number of admissions varied from 137 to 234, and the total number amounted to 1,820, making an average of 182 for each year. In the year 1858 the number of admissions exactly tallied with this average, or was 180. The greater proportion of Typhoid cases was admitted during the autumnal months, almost one-half (86 out of 180) of the cases occurring during the four months from August to November inclusive.

Neither has there been any diminution in the admission of Scarlet fever cases, the average number of admissions for the last ten years being 115; that for the year 1858 being 118. Scarlet fever has, however, been much more prevalent during the past year than the returns of the Fever Hospital would indicate.

Of the total 578 cases treated to a termination, 106 proved fatal, making a general mortality of 18·3 per cent. This great mortality was mainly among the cases which were not examples of fever. Of these 47 proved fatal, or 23·38 per cent. This is scarcely to be wondered at. Cases of acute disease, in order to be mistaken for Continued Fever, must be of unusual severity. The causes of death in these 47 cases, were :—

Of the total number of Typhus cases under treatment (17), 9, or more than one-half, died.

Of 204 cases of Typhoid fever treated to a termination, 28 cases, or 13·72 per cent., died.

Taking all the forms of Continued Fever together, including Febricula, there were treated to a termination, during the year 1858, 268 cases, of whom 37 cases, or 13·8, terminated fatally.

Of 116 cases of Scarlet fever, 22 died, or almost 19 per cent. This mortality considerably exceeds what has been usually observed in the Fever Hospital. During the ten preceding years 1,156 cases of Scarlet fever were admitted, of whom only 133, or 11·5 per cent., died.

Of the fatal cases of Typhoid fever there were complications in 10, viz., Cancerum Oris in 1; Parotid Swellings in 2; Perforation of Intestine and Peritonitis in 3; Pneumonia in 2; Tubercular deposits in the Lungs in 1; and Bedsores in 1.

Five of the fatal cases of Scarlatina were complicated: 1 with Menorrhagia; 1 with Melæna; 1 with Ophthalmia; 1 with Abscess in the neck; and 1 with Pneumonia.

In six of the cases of Typhoid fever there was a recurrence of the disease during convalescence. Three cases of Typhoid fever, and one case of Rubeola, contracted Scarlet fever before leaving the Hospital.

In order to convey some idea of the severity of many of the cases under treatment, it may be mentioned that there died within 48 hours after admission 1 case of Typhoid fever, 5 of Scarlet fever, and 8 of the cases which had not fever; and of these, 2 cases of Scarlet fever, and 3 of the diseases not fever, died within 24 hours.

The Committee earnestly beg to call the attention of the public to the importance of maintaining this most excellent Charity. The great diminution of Epidemic Fever among the poor has, for the time being, deprived the Hospital, in a great measure, of one of the principal sources of its income — the subscriptions of the different Unions and Parishes. The cases of true Typhus, which is the fever most prevalent among the poor, have been so few, that they have found entrance into the general hospitals, where they entail no direct expense to the parochial boards. It is to be remembered, however, that, with reference to a Fever Hospital, the great object is that it be kept in a constant state of efficiency, so as to meet any emergency which may arise. An epidemic of Typhus may occur at any time, and the general hospitals prove quite inadequate to meet the claims for admission. In the meantime the hospital is obliged to maintain a permanent staff, the expense of which varies but little whether the number of patients be great or small.

The Committee are also desirous of impressing upon the public the propriety of having more general recourse to the wards of the Fever Hospital for the treatment of contagious diseases. No hospital in the metropolis is so well adapted for the treatment of such cases, owing to the spaciousness of the wards and their perfect ventilation. Considering the severe nature of a large proportion of the cases admitted, the rate of mortality is certainly not greater than in any general hospital. There is also abundant evidence to show, that, in proportion to the number of cases treated, the chances of the disease being communicated to the attendants upon the sick, and to patients labouring under other diseases, are very much smaller in the London Fever Hospital than in most general hospitals.

There is reason to believe that the main provision which governs the admission of patients into this Hospital is not extensively known to the public, namely, that it is open gratuitously, day and night, to all poor and destitute persons who are not in the receipt of parochial relief, and who are certified by some medical man to be labouring under fever. Destitution and fever of themselves give the claim to admission.

It may be further observed, that this Institution has this peculiar claim to private benevolence, that it opens its door to the reception of domestic servants when private families are visited by the calamity of fever. During the past year 75, or 13·6 per cent. of the total number of cases admitted, have been domestic servants. In each of these cases, by the prompt removal of the sick, it has at once relieved the family, not only from the anxiety, trouble, and expense inseparable from an outbreak of fever, but also from the danger of its spreading to the other members of the household. It also affords accommodation to shopmen, commercial travellers, and others, who may be seized with contagious fever under circumstances where a removal from their residences is almost imperative.

The Hospital is open at all times for public inspection; and the Committee earnestly invite those who take an interest in the welfare of the poor, to inspect this establishment, which is, in every sense of the term, a free hospital for the reception of patients labouring under contagious fevers.

Such benevolent persons as may be disposed to contribute to this Charity are requested to intimate their intention to the Secretary, and they will be waited on by the Collector; or, if they pay to the Bankers, Messrs. HOARE, 37, Fleet Street, they will please to leave their Christian names and places of abode at the time of payment. Any errors in the list of subscribers will be thankfully corrected, on writing to the Secretary at the Hospital.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

OBJECTS OF THE INSTITUTION.

1. ALL poor persons (not being parochial paupers) and domestic servants of subscribers, labouring under contagious fever, and residing in the metropolis or its neighbourhood, shall be considered proper objects of this charity, and shall be admitted gratuitously according to the next regulation. Parochial paupers, domestic servants of non-subscribers, and all inmates of other public charities (except medical hospitals), shall be admitted on the payment of such sum for each patient as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

2. On application for the admission of any patient to the Hospital, notice shall be immediately given to the resident medical officer, and the person after inspection may be admitted by an order signed by him, or on a certificate signed by any physician, surgeon, or apothecary, stating the disease to be fever of a contagious nature, or likely to become such. The order or certificate shall entitle the patient to admission subject to the provisions contained in Rule No. 1, unless the case shall be deemed an improper one by the resident medical officer, or unless the Hospital shall be full.

GOVERNORS.

3. All subscribers of one guinea annually, or of ten guineas in one donation, shall be governors of this Hospital.

GENERAL MEETING AND ELECTION OF THE COMMITTEE.

4. A general meeting of the governors, of which ten days' previous notice must be given in three morning newspapers, shall be held every year, on the second Friday in February, or as near thereto as may be convenient, for the purpose of approving or rescinding the proceedings of the Committee for the preceding year; for receiving an annual report of the state of the funds; and for electing a president, vice-presidents, treasurer, honorary secretary, and other members of the Committee, for the ensuing year. At all meetings connected with the affairs of the Hospital, a simple majority of the governors present and voting shall bind the minority; and in case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall have an additional or casting vote.

5. A special general meeting of the governors may at any time be called, by direction of the president or of the Committee; or on the requisition of any twelve governors, provided the requisition be made in writing to the Secretary, and the purpose for which the same is summoned be published in three morning newspapers at least ten days prior to the next meeting;

but the proceedings of such special general meeting, though acted upon pro tempore, shall not be deemed final until confirmed by another general meeting.

6. No new rule or law shall be made, nor shall any existing rule or law be repealed or altered, until determined upon at a general meeting by a majority of governors present and voting, and until confirmed at a subsequent general or special meeting.

7. The presence of seven governors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at general meetings, and without that number no business shall be transacted.

8. At the annual general meeting, a Committee, for the management of the Institution, shall be elected, consisting of the president, the vice-presidents, the treasurer, honorary secretary, and twenty-four other governors; four of which governors shall not have been members of the preceding Committee. They shall meet on the last Friday, or on such other day of every month as the Committee may appoint; and three members shall be necessary to constitute a meeting, and to transact business. A special meeting of the Committee may be called by the direction of the Treasurer, or by any three members of the Committee, on giving at least three days' notice of the same, and specifying the business for which it is called.

9. The Committee shall have authority to appoint sub-committees, whose reports shall be submitted to their consideration; they shall elect all the officers, except the physicians of the Hospital and the honorary secretary, who shall be elected by the governors at large; and with the assistance of the medical officers shall form regulations and by-laws for the internal management of the Hospital.

10. The resolutions of one meeting of the Committee shall not be rescinded by another, unless it be specially summoned for that purpose. All accounts, except such small sums as may be comprised under the item of petty cash, shall be submitted to the Committee at the monthly meetings, after having been duly examined by the secretary, the resident medical officer, and the house-directors; and such accounts, if approved, shall be paid by cheques payable to order, signed in Committee by the chairman and one other member, or, in case a Committee cannot be formed, by two house directors, and in all cases countersigned by the secretary. All the larger articles of supply, when practicable, shall be furnished by contract made after public tender. No expenditure for repairs of premises or any machinery shall be incurred without a written order from the Committee or house directors.

11. The Committee shall yearly publish a report of the state of the Hospital.

12. No person, being a member of the Committee, shall furnish for profit any goods, provisions, or other articles for the use of or on account of the Hospital, or be concerned in any contract for supplying the same, or be employed for hire, or wages, or profit, in any office or employment under the Charity.

TREASURER.

13. The treasurer, if present, shall take the chair at all meetings of the Committee in the absence of the president or vice-presidents. He shall keep an account at the bankers, and all moneys received for the use of the Hospital shall be paid to such account; he shall honour all cheques signed, as provided in Rule 10th; and the signature of the secretary shall be a sufficient warranty that the cheques purporting to be so signed are properly signed, and shall be an indemnity to the treasurer against risk.

AUDITORS.

14. Three gentlemen shall be appointed annually at the meeting of the Committee in November, who shall audit the accounts of the Institution for the current year, and approve an abstract of all receipts and disbursements to be prepared by the secretary, and laid before the annual general meeting in February.

MONTHLY DIRECTORS.

15. The Committee shall, at each monthly meeting, appoint three members of their own body as directors of the Hospital, of whom two shall be a quorum, and who shall continue in office until the next monthly meeting of the Committee.

16. They shall, from time to time, cause the bed-clothes and apparel belonging to the Hospital to be examined, and shall report thereon, if necessary, to the Committee. They shall inspect the tradesmen's bills, and take care that the provisions, bedding, clothing, furniture, and every article for the use of the Hospital be supplied on the most reasonable terms. They shall order in writing all permanent stores.

17. They shall be authorised in all respects to enforce the observance of the regulations of the Hospital; they shall notice and report to the Committee any irregularity or misconduct on the part of the officers, servants, or patients of the Charity; and shall, at every meeting of the Committee, cause a statement of the house-expenditure to be produced for the preceding month. They appoint the porters, nurses, and other menial servants of the Hospital, and dismiss them for misconduct.

PHYSICIANS.

18. There shall be two physicians, and two assistant physicians, who shall be Fellows or Licentiates of the Royal College of Physicians of London; and also a consulting-surgeon, who shall be a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.

19. The physicians and assistant-physicians shall be elected by the governors at large; and no governor shall be qualified to vote, unless he shall have become a governor three months before a vacancy is declared.

20. One of the physicians shall visit the Hospital at least once every day, and at such times as they may deem necessary. Their duties shall be restricted to the wards, and shall not extend to anything relating to the general management of the Hospital; but they shall have the power of dismissing any patient or convalescent, for refractory conduct or disobedience of orders.

ASSISTANT-PHYSICIANS.

21. In case of the illness or necessary absence of either of the physicians, one of the assistant-physicians shall attend regularly in his stead. Such attendances to be reported to the Committee.

HOSPITAL PUPILS.

22. No medical student shall be permitted to visit the Hospital, unless in company with one of the physicians, and unless he is regularly entered or registered as a pupil.

RESIDENT MEDICAL OFFICER.

23. The resident medical officer shall reside constantly at the Hospital, and shall devote himself entirely to the duties of his office; and previously to his election he shall be required to produce satisfactory testimonials to the Committee.

24. He shall superintend the patients between the visits of the physicians, and the dispensary shall be exclusively under his control. In the absence of the Committee and house directors he shall be recognised as the head of the establishment.

25. Accurate registers of the patients admitted, as well as of the remedies employed for their recovery, shall be kept—which registers shall be the property of the Hospital; he shall produce a medical report every month, to be laid before the Committee.

26. When the number of patients shall be great, and he shall require aid, he shall, with the sanction of the Committee, appoint a medical assistant, if his qualifications be approved by the physicians, at such remuneration as the Committee shall from time to time determine, and he shall be responsible for the acts of such assistant.

HONORARY SECRETARY.

27. There shall be an honorary secretary, who shall also be a member of the Committee, and chosen annually with them. He shall be at liberty to attend all deputations to public bodies and private persons. He shall communicate with persons concerning the affairs of the Hospital during the intervals between the monthly meetings of the Committee, and shall report to the Committee at their next meeting all special or important events that shall have occurred within his knowledge during the month. He shall also assist the Treasurer in the discharge of his duties when necessary.

SECRETARY AND HOUSE-STEWARD.

28. The duties of this officer shall be to reside in the Hospital, if required by the Committee, and in the absence of the house-directors to have the management of the domestic affairs of the Hospital under the general superintendence of the resident medical officer. He shall be required to enter into a bond, with sufficient sureties, for the due and faithful performance of his duties. He shall also perform the several duties specified in the by-laws.

MATRON.

29. The duties of the matron shall principally relate to the wards, the kitchen, and the laundry. She shall exercise a strict superintendence over the nurses; shall have the charge of linen, bedding, glass, crockery, and ordinary kitchen and scullery stores, subject to the general supervision of the house steward; and shall visit every ward of the Hospital at least three times in the day. She shall also perform the several duties specified in the by-laws.

COLLECTOR.

30. The duties of this officer shall be—

To call on subscribers and collect all donations and subscriptions of the Hospital; to give only authorised printed receipts for the same; to attend all meetings, when required; to keep correct lists, and duplicate lists, of all donations and subscriptions, with the residences of the donors and subscribers made up from day to day; to pay weekly all moneys he may receive to the bankers; to deliver weekly to the secretary reports in writing of all moneys received and paid, with the balance at the bankers'; to keep the accounts regularly entered in the collector's cash book; to deliver a copy of the annual report to each subscriber; and to give such security, with sureties, for the due and faithful performance of his duties, as may be required.

NURSES.

31. The head nurse in each ward shall attend principally to the patients; and to the keeping of the wards clean and quiet.

32. The under-nurses shall be under the direction of the head-nurses, and shall perform the more menial offices of the Hospital.

PORTER AND ENGINEER.

33. The porter and the engineer shall be employed as the Committee or directors may think proper. They shall not absent themselves without the permission of the house-directors or resident medical officer.

TRUSTEES.

34. The legal estate in the lands, buildings, and premises of the Hospital shall be vested in three trustees; new trustees being appointed when vacancies occur, at a general meeting of the governors.

35. All legacies of £100 and upwards, unless otherwise directed by testators, shall be invested for the benefit of the Hospital in the names of three trustees.

36. No variation in the usual gratuities and fixed salaries shall be made, unless the Committee be specially summoned for the purpose, and unless the proposed addition, or diminution, be confirmed by a subsequent Committee.

BY-LAWS.

37. The by-laws which shall from time to time be made by the Committee shall be open to the inspection of any subscriber, and shall contain, among other things, a full specification of the duties of the resident medical officer, the matron, and other officers of the Institution, with the practice usually adopted for their election; which specification shall be read over to every individual before his appointment, and referred to on all occasions of doubt.
